Curriculum Intentions

At Charlton House Independent School, we intend our History curriculum to deliver learning which is accessible to all and that will maximise the outcomes for every child so that they know, remember and understand more. All children will be given the opportunity to increase their understanding of the past, develop and use their skills in enquiry, analysis, evaluation, and argument and develop a sense of identity through learning about the past.

Curriculum Implementation

In ensuring high standards of learning in history, we implement a curriculum that is progressive throughout the whole school. History focuses on knowledge and skills stated in the National Curriculum. We ensure that the importance of history is instilled in the children, as we feel this is important in enabling all children to gain 'real-life' experiences and an understanding of how history can shape the future.

Curriculum Impact

At Charlton House Independent School, children will understand and use the key skills of: chronological understanding, knowledge and understanding of events in the past and Historical interpretation and enquiry. All pupils will be given the opportunity to achieve within history and develop their skills as historians through a range of lesson types. As historians, children will learn lessons from history to influence the decisions they make in their lives now and in the future.
