Letter from the Headteacher...

Good Afternoon,

Today Charlton House has been awash with bunting, scones and fun! We had a fantastic day celebrating the coronation of King Charles III. We started the day working within our classes to learn about King Charles III and then presented our learning to the rest of the school.

Years 1, 2 and Reception performed a coronation song that they had been learning and Years 3 and 4 shared information about King Charles III and some of our previous monarchs. Years 5 and 6 regaled us with a coronation poem that they recited beautifully. Well done everyone - I hope you all enjoyed learning about King Charles III and sharing with your friends.

We then moved onto our garden party - there were stands loaded with sandwiches, scones and cupcakes, along with carrot sticks, cocktail sausages and strawberries. It was lovely to see all of the children talking, having fun and sharing such an enjoyable, social time.

Before we started our afternoon of crafts, we announced the winner and runners-up of the coronation art competition. I had so many entries and it was very hard to choose as they were all so different and carefully made. I was very impressed! Have a look on the back page for our winner and runners-up.

We finished the afternoon with whole school crafts. The children had to design and decorate a fabric square as part of a collaborative wall hanging and then they got to make mosaic Union Jacks and coronation bookmarks. Photos of the days events fill the middle page of the newsletter this week.

There is more exciting learning to come next week with visits from Fire and Rescue to Year 1 and 2, and the Welsh National Opera will be doing a workshop with Years 3-6.

I hope you all have a wonderful long weekend and enjoy the coronation tomorrow.

Kind regards
